

Charity and social business seminars

Winter 2018

Getting in shape for 2018 - help your charity to stay compliant

Wednesday 31 January

The start of a new year is a great time to reflect on the changes we want or need to make. During this seminar a panel of experts from our charity and social business team will provide an overview of recent developments and look at what lies ahead for the rest of the year, including:

- changes to charity law
- priorities for good governance
- HR and employment
- regulation of charities
- implications of Brexit
- data protection

There will be plenty of time for discussion and to put your questions to the panel.

Data protection for charities - an introduction to the GDPR

Tuesday 27 February

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) comes into effect on 25 May 2018 and most charities will need to make some changes in order to comply. Carla Whalen and Victoria Ehmann will present an introduction to the GDPR touching upon:

- new concepts and approaches in the GDPR
- conditions for processing personal data, including consent and legitimate interests
- individual rights, including privacy notices and subject access requests
- new obligations on data processors
- data breach reporting obligations

Avoiding an HR crisis

Wednesday 14 March

Workplace management can be challenging and most employers will have to deal with tough HR issues from time to time – from difficult conversations about performance to fraught employee relationships, sensitive grievance investigations and complex restructures. Our charity employment lawyers know that issues which go unaddressed or aren't properly managed can result in significant costs and potential reputational damage.

Jane Klauber and Carla Whalen will draw on their experiences as employment advisers to charities to provide tips and recommendations on how to avoid a common HR problem turning into an HR crisis.
